Biography

Paediatric surgeon with strong interest in Neonatal Surgery.

After 10 years working in university teaching hospital in Bangkok, she aims to refine her knowledge and skills as a surgeon to help expanding paediatric surgical service as well as improve paediatric surgery training in Thailand.

Apart from clinical work, she also believes in research collaboration, knowledges and innovations. She conducted some collaborate research projects in Thailand, and hope that her works could inspire next generations of paediatric surgeons in future to work together without conflicts.
